The 1966 Dixon High School boys basketball team accomplished the perfect season. They were unbeaten in compiling a record of 24 - 0. According to The Sacramento Bee, this team was "one of just three undefeated squads in Sacramento-area history."

After winning the league championship, the 1966 boys team ended their season by winning the Fall River Tournament. The team's impressive season earned them the recognition of the #1 California Small School basketball team. Individual honors were given to Coach Ary (league Coach of the Year), Floyd Holmes (league Player of the Year, Sacramento Bee Superior California All-Star) and Jim Butler (All-league)

Prior to the 1966 team, the last Dixon High School basketball team to have an unbeaten season was the 1948 boys basketball team coached by this year's Hall of Fame coach inductee, Edward Kay.
